The editorial in chief of “Damparvaran” is criticizing the non-executed rules in agricultural sectors in Iran.

Our parliament has approved many bills for agriculture sections from 1309 (1911 A.D) to this year, it has been collected in a book by 1600 pages which hasn't been fulfilled yet.

Only the bills which are profitable for the state will be acted. But those who are profitable for private sectors never will be fulfilled.

Recently a collection of agricultural bills by name as “Bills for profitable system” are approved. It was approved in 1387 (2008 A.D) with opposition of many private associations and unions.

Many agricultural unions and societies criticize these bills, for they seems never actually will be acted to.
